About the Tour

What is the Patrick Henry History Tour?

The Patrick Henry History Tour is an immersive, full-day experience that takes you on a 50-mile journey through Hanover County, Virginia—the landscape that shaped America's most passionate voice for liberty.

Experience the complete story of Patrick Henry's transformation from failed shopkeeper to Revolutionary hero. Visit six historic sites, witness a live reenactment of his famous Parsons' Cause trial, and walk in the footsteps of the man who declared "Give me liberty, or give me death!"

This expertly guided circular tour begins and ends at Hanover Courthouse, taking you through the places that forged the legend—from his humble birthplace to the mansion where he served as Virginia's first governor.

What sites will we visit on the tour?

The tour visits six historic sites that tell the complete story of Patrick Henry's extraordinary life:

Hanover Courthouse — Where Fame Began (1763): Witness a live reenactment of 27-year-old Patrick Henry defending local taxpayers in the famous "Parsons' Cause" trial, where his passionate argument launched his career as America's voice for liberty.

Studley Plantation — Patrick Henry's Birthplace (1736): Visit the site where Patrick Henry was born on May 29, 1736, to John Henry (a Scottish immigrant) and Sarah Winston Henry. Stand on the ground that shaped his origins.

Polegreen Church — Where Oratory Was Born: Discover the Presbyterian meetinghouse where young Patrick Henry heard Reverend Samuel Davies deliver powerful sermons advocating for religious freedom—the speaking style that became the model for Henry's legendary oratory.

Scotchtown Plantation — Revolutionary Mansion (1771–1778): Tour one of the largest wooden mansions in Virginia, where Henry lived during his most dramatic years and served as Virginia's first governor while dealing with personal tragedy.

Pine Slash — Never before open to the public! Site of Failure and Redemption: Learn about Patrick Henry's early struggles at the site of his failed general store—the crushing defeats that pushed him toward law, where his love of argument became an asset rather than a liability.

Shelton House/Rural Plains — Where Love Began (1754): End your tour at the Shelton family home, where Patrick Henry married Sarah Shelton in 1754. John Shelton operated the ordinary (tavern) at Hanover Courthouse, creating family connections that supported Henry's early career.
